

Extended Education Track

Language, Literacy and Culture | June 16-17

The Cambio de Colores Conference will co-host an extension of its education track focusing on Language, Literacy, and Culture with support from Quality Teachers for English Learners (QTEL) and the Missouri Dual Language Network (MODLAN).

The purpose of this two-day event is to help teachers become linguistically and culturally responsive (LCR) and to prepare them for the increasing number of immigrant and linguistically and culturally diverse (LCD) children in the Midwest.

University of Missouri – St. Louis (UMSL)

Attendees will learn about specific teaching tools and tips and will discuss challenges and solutions that teachers and administrators have when teaching English language learners and other LCD learners.

This two-day track extension is included in the full Cambio de Colores Conference registration, or is $75 alone.
